A FATHER'S DAY TRIBUTE

The hopes a father has for his children extends from our heartfelt desire to see our children be fully complete, living to their full potential through life. We see possibility in our children and desire for them to grow and exceed those possibilities. Knowing this, the journey getting to full potential has certain needs that a father is to give. - Compassion and care, - encouragement and motivation, - provision and hard work. These areas of support and more, are the basis of what makes boys become men and girls to have the picture of a potential spouse who would point to their heavenly father, as God intends. For these are the same character traits that give us a basis of growing under God our Father. Men have been given the responsibility to represent God's love and the provisions He provides to us. Scripture tells us in Matthew 7:9-11 "You fathers—if your children ask for a loaf of bread, do you give them a stone instead? Or if they ask for a fish, do you give them a snake? Of course not! So if you sinful people know how to give good gifts to your children, how much more will your heavenly Father give good gifts to those who ask him." and again in John 3:16, "For God so loved the world, the world that He gave..." As Men who are motivated to raise our children in respect for God our Father, we Care about the lives of our children and have compassion for their daily struggles and triumphs. Sometimes we need to give a word of wisdom, but often our words are to give our children the motivation that we believe in them and love them and we know deep in our hearts, "you can do it!" This is why we are willing to work to provide for our children's needs. We make provisions. We fix. We teach life. It's because we want our children to have the foundations for success. We give good gifts, because it fills our hearts to see our children receive something that will bless them. "Oh what manner of love the Father has given to us..." These Character traits that make men "fathers" come from our heavenly Father and gives us a value for our children that connects us to God as we all are His children. For these reasons and more, we celebrate Fathers today. We want to say thank you for your sacrifice, your words of wisdom, your encouragements and corrections to do what's right, and your willingness to fix what is broken. Thank you for Following our heavenly Fathers example.
