Why Regularly Attend Worship?

Hebrews 10:25 says, “Let us not give up meeting together as some are in the habit of doing, but let us encourage one another...”

We should regularly participate in corporate worship regardless of how we feel. Why?

- 1 All week, we struggle with the secular world—controlling, laboring and acquiring. In corporate worship, we focus on Christ who provides the proper motivation, direction and encouragement we need to make our lives meaningful, peaceful and joyous.
- 2 All week, we struggle with stress, worry, anger, hurt, resentment, frustration and fear. In corporate worship, we learn to express our emotions in ways that are pleasing to God. We learn to forgive and ask forgiveness and deal effectively with negative experiences.
- 3 All week, we react to the world and deal with it reflexively. Sometimes, we deny and distort it. In corporate worship, we are encouraged to be proactive rather than reactive, reflective (meditate) rather than reflexive. We also discover healthy (biblical) principles for interpersonal relationships.
- 4 All week long we are on the go!—over-committed. We need to slow down and rest. In corporate worship, we come to rest our bodies, renew our minds and refresh our spirits. If we don't come apart, we will come apart.
- 5 All week long, we view the world through our own limited spectacles—our experiences and responses. In corporate worship, we expand our vision by learning to view things more and more from God's perspective. We also learn to weep with those who weep and rejoice with those who rejoice. Joys shared are multiplied. Sorrows shared are divided.
- 6 All week long, we relate to others based on our expected roles and impersonal anonymity. In corporate worship, we are personal rather than impersonal. We are with a caring Christian family whose mood and mind set are very similar to ours—who want to learn how to please God more and more.
- 7 All week long, we are burdened with obligations and responsibilities. In corporate worship, we are refreshed and energized as we restore our relationship with God.

- 8 All week long, we struggle with sin and guilt. In corporate worship, we learn how to gain and maintain a clear conscience and to over-come the power of sin in our lives.
- 9 All week long, we struggle to survive. In corporate worship, we learn to live and make life more meaningful for ourselves and others.
